Development principles

Faithful to Scripture. All courses should agree with the NBBI Statement of Faith and use the King James Version for English-language Scripture quotations and instruction.

Built for useful learning. Courses may incorporate teaching videos, outlines, reading, review questions, quizzes, examinations, and appropriate practical assignments.

Existing teaching welcomed. A pastor's previously taught sermon series, notes, classroom study, or manuscript may become the starting point for an NBBI course, subject to review and any necessary permissions.

Approval before publication. Final titles, content, instructors, format, release schedules, and academic use remain subject to NBBI approval. Proposed listings are not a promise of availability.

An invitation to contribute

NBBI welcomes suitable course proposals from like-minded Baptist pastors, missionaries, evangelists, and qualified Bible teachers. Our desire is that faithful teaching already prepared, as well as new studies yet to be developed, might reach more students, strengthen local churches, and glorify the Lord.

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

II TIMOTHY 2:2 | KJV
